African Health Ministers commit to attain universal health coverage

67th Session of the WHO

Paris, Wahsington DC, Zanzibar, 03.09.2017, 18:55 Time

USPA NEWS - African health ministers meeting in Zimbabwe for the 67th Session of the World Health Organization (WHO) Regional Committee have adopted a range of actions intended to strengthen health systems in countries and eventually lead to Universal Health Coverage (UHC). UHC means that all individuals and communities receive the health services they need without suffering financial hardship. It enables everyone to access the services that address the most important causes of disease and death, and ensures that these services are of sufficient quality to be effective.

The Region is experiencing demographic, economic, social, security and environmental changes that place unique and varied demands on health. The Ministers highlighted some of the challenges that lie ahead in the context of implementing the framework. These are actions that would require engagement with other sectors that have significant influence on health outcomes. They also noted the double burden of diseases that involves dealing with the rising numbers of individuals with Non-communicable diseases while tackling communicable diseases and the importance of the social and commercial determinants of health. The ministers also recognized the complexity brought about by population changes that will result in high numbers of both young and elderly people with unique health needs. They further noted that this alignment of health systems with changing needs would require good quality human resources, effective governance, and improved organization and management of health services. Despite the challenges, the ministers acknowledged the substantial improvements in health outcomes achieved over the last 25 years on the continent. Improvements were also noted in the overall financing for health which may have contributed to a reduction in out-of-pocket expenditures. With apo, and World Health Organization (WHO).
